JAG Website How-to-guide

Download Centre

The JAG Website How-to-guide series of documents have been designed as a quick reference for the new features of the JAG website (www.thejag.org.uk).

Where to find this feature

On the every page of the JAG website the Download Centre area is located on the left side of the screen.

About this feature

The Download Centre feature is a database of all JAG documents including form, guidelines and presentations.

How to use this feature

Once you've clicked on the icon for the Download Centre, there are two ways to use this feature:

- Browse all of the available documents, selecting those that you would like to download, then click Download to open or save them onto your computer.
- Use the drop down menu to select a specialty area as displayed below and find more specific documents and then click Download at the bottom of the list to open or save them onto your computer.
