

Constitution & terms of service

Constitution

Members of the JAG are nominated as follows:

Statutory members:

JRCPTB – 2 members

JCHST – 2 members

RCR – 1 member

RCGP – 1 member

BSG – 3 members

Co-opted members - as required. Currently, there are members from the following: AUGIS, ACPGIBI, BSPGHAN, EAG, RCN, National Endoscopy Training Lead, National Clinical Lead Endoscopy.

Tenure

The tenure of JAG membership is for a maximum period of three years with a further single three-year extension. The tenure of the Chairman may be extended by a maximum of two further years to take account of taking up office late in the normal three/six year tenure and in order that he/she may spend a useful period in office.

Selection of the Chairman

The Chairman of the JAG is elected by members from existing statutory membership. Ideally, the Chairmanship should alternate between the statutory member organisations.

Secretariat

The JAG Secretariat will be provided by one of the Colleges/Joint Committees.

Procedure for new or replacement members

The JAG office will contact the relevant college/Joint Committee to request nominations for new or replacement members, in accordance with the above regulations. If JAG guidance regarding a required clinical or academic bias has been offered, this will be specified.

Voting

Members are entitled to vote where this is necessary. Co-opted members have no vote.
